ATTENDEES

The event has been carefully planned to attract many varied industry professionals across all aspects of safety. This is the inaugural event of its type in South Australia, and it is anticipated that in excess of 1,000 people will participate in the range of elements on offer.

COST TO ATTEND

Whilst attendance at the Exhibition is free to encourage maximum turnout, participation in the other elements of Safety – It's People: Adelaide Conference and Expo do attract a Registration Fee. This translates to attendees that have a genuine interest and/or requirement for information relative to the safety field – which in turn provides your organisation with the potential for legitimate prospects.

ONSITE ACTIVITIES

The event has been created to allow for maximum interaction with OHS industry leaders and professionals throughout the day.

South Australian Chamber of Mines and Energy

Breakfast – The day will be commencing with the South Australian Chamber of Mines and Energy Breakfast, this element will include a guest speaker.

Keynote Presentation – An inspirational and motivational part of the day will be the Keynote Presentation made by Darren Flanagan on his involvement in the Beaconsfield Mine rescue.

Darren Flanagan received a call late on the Sunday night that Beaconsfield Miners Todd Russell and Brant Webb were discovered to be still alive. Hear how that one phone call changed his life from that of an ordinary family man to a real hero of the great escape – an emotive, dramatic and inspiring story.

Flown by a private Lear Jet at midnight from his home town Nowra, Darren was taken directly to the mine. It is to be a flight that changed his life forever. Darren was nicked named "The Gun" by Todd and Brant because he was the one who charged and fired the explosives that eventually released them from their tomb 925m underground.

Safety – It's People: Adelaide Conference and Expo

– A major feature of the event will be a Safety Conference entitled "Safety – It's People". A range of industry-related presentations will be provided over the course of the day. These will cover the following topics: "Community", "Construction and Mining" and "Solutions". The three special interest streams have been designed to attract a wide variety of safety industry professionals. The conference will conclude with a Panel Discussion relating to the introduction of the new Harmonised OHS legislation.

Safety Exhibition – Another major feature of the event will be the Safety Exhibition. Here you will have the opportunity to introduce your product and/or service to the attendees. This will provide a great forum for you to create value-adding benefits and bonuses in order to maximise your profile.
